

Women of Reform Judaism and
Temple Society of Concord

PRESENT

History and Art in Geraldine Brooks' People of the Book

An illustrated lecture by Dr. Samuel D. Gruber
Director of the Jewish Heritage Research Center (Syracuse)
& Rothman Lecturer in Judaic Studies, Syracuse University

Sunday, November 1, 10 a.m.

At Temple Concord, 910 Madison St, Syracuse

People of the Book is a fictional imagining of the history of the famed Sarajevo Haggadah, the profusely illustrated medieval Jewish manuscript that was rediscovered in the 19th century and changed the understanding of the role of art in Jewish history.

Admission is free; light refreshments will be served.

For information, contact Danielle Masursky: 464-4867 or dmasursky@hotmail.com

Pulitzer-prize winning author Geraldine Brooks will be speaking at the Friends of the Central Library Rosamond Gifford Lecture Series on November 10; a group of WRJ members will be attending that lecture – please join us if you can (tickets are $25, available from the Oncenter Box Office).