CONSENT AGENDA

Mr. Kochian moved the consent agenda, which includes the minutes from the November 20, 2024 meeting.

Ms. Bilbo Coughlin seconded; motion passed unanimously.

PRE-READS/
COMMENTS

Mr. Edelstein inquired if there were any comments from the Board regarding any of the pre-reads they received.

Mr. Mulvey inquired about Springshare. Ms. Marmor explained that we have a new calendar and meeting room reservation system through Springshare. A short discussion followed regarding web development and the need for better communication internally as well as for the community and where the strategic plan plays a role. Mr. Edelstein feels other digital tools could be useful as well and felt the staff was in a good place to make any recommendations. If there is a need for funding, it can be approved by the Board which can also provide advocacy.

Ms. Massulik explained Springshare in more detail. LibGuides CMS (content management system) was purchased to replace another vendor that is terminating at the end of the year. This allows for experimenting to see if it will fit our needs for website redesign without spending extra money. Mr. Edelstein would like to have further discussions after the first of the year.

Ms. Dyer asked if the Books by Mail is on the website. Ms. Foster explained that it is not right now but is being looked at as a feature in the future. Mr. Edelstein asked Ms. Perrine to speak about what the metrics of success are for the Book by Mail pilot. Ms. Perrine detailed the Sigma Testing for Books by Mail. Staff will sign up to practice mailing out the materials and sending them back to make sure it works. The plan will go for about a month and a half. If all goes well it will be implemented for the Branches and Central patrons in mid-February. If that goes well it will be made available for the suburban libraries either at the beginning of Summer or the end depending on the Summer Reading program and staffing. Mr. Kochian inquired about the criteria to participate in the Books by Mail program. Ms. Perrine indicated it was for patrons that are completely or temporarily homebound. She is hoping to find more senior locations to serve. Ms. Foster will be able to work with the libraries in those locations to expand their outreach as well. Staff are encouraged to build personal relationships with their neighborhood senior locations. Mr. Edelstein requested a report with some statistics for the February or March board meeting.

Ms. Hurst-Wahl asked Ms. Marmor to talk about the CLRC Legislative breakfast. Ms. Marmor shared that it took place on December 13th in Marcellus. She felt the attendance was good and especially enjoyed it this year. Nancy Lowery, Director of Intergovernmental Relations in the County Executive's office was in attendance. Ms. Marmor felt it was very nice for staff from OCPL to meet her. Ms. Marmor also mentioned that CLRC placed a handout at each table detailing NYLA's legislative priorities for 2025. They held a webinar earlier in the week talking about advocacy with pointers from Max Prime, Director of Government Relations and Advocacy at NYLA. Ms. Marmor shared that her own focus in conversations with people in attendance at the breakfast was on ebook licensing reform.

Ms. Marmor feels that the board is ready to put together a government relations committee citing some tips from Max Prime.

- Advocacy needs to be continuous, intentional and dynamic.
- Build relationships with officials year-round.
- Invite them to any special programs or celebrations. Ms. Marmor noted that White Branch is hitting its centennial year in 2025.
- Develop your advocacy network, members of the community patrons, and digital advocacy.

Ms. Marmor suggested having a get-together where people could talk about local priorities prior to the breakfasts.

Ms. Bilbo Coughlin mentioned Assemblyman John Lemondes was talking about securing new funds for green space and sustainability initiatives. Ms. Marmor felt he was asking us to contact his office to express our interest in these initiatives.

Ms. Hurst-Wahl thanked Ms. Perrine for taking the opportunity to speak to Tracy DiGenova, Central New York Regional Representative for Gov. Kathy Hochul regarding construction grants at the breakfast. A short discussion followed.

Ms. Hurst-Wahl expressed her appreciation for the pre-read annual reports which included highlights from 2024 and things to come in 2025.

Mr. Edelstein thanked everyone for the pre-reads. He noticed in a lot of reports across the board the need for staffing. He feels monitoring this would be helpful.

Ms. Marmor shared that we were contacted by students at Syracuse University who are working on a project. They are doing a campaign on freedom to read, challenged books, and banned books and are interested in having the Book Bike visit their campus. The event is scheduled for February 14th.

Mr. Kochian was impressed with Branch and Central's monthly statistics. Mr. Edelstein thanked Ms. Battelle for compiling them.
